Tucks Bodies In Neatly and Shoots Self

Florida Woman Calls Doctor Before Attempting Own Life

LAKE WALES, Fla. (AP) — A young mother, described as "very devoted" to her three children, shot them to death and tucked their bodies neatly in bed before calling a doctor, police reported today.

The mother, Mrs. Lorene Calbeck, then shot herself. Officers, notified by the doctor, rushed to Mrs. Calbeck's trailer home and found the mother in critical condition with a pistol bullet in her chest.

Police could find no motive immediately for the woman's actions. In tracing the triple slaying, of officers theorized that Mrs. Calbeck, whose husband was reported to be living in Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., took each of her three blonde daughters out for a ride in the car separately, undressed them, shot them, returned and put their bodies in bed as if they were asleep.

Police said they found two notes in the house trailer, one addressed to her husband, Mark Calbeck. It was dated April 20 and said:

"Dear Mark, I have left the key with Ray Ray Holmes, operator of the trailer park which will open the small black suitcase under my bed containing my valuables. In it you will find a very important black Bible and contents. Please do not lose the cards which it contains; they are extremely valuable. There are also three letters, two for you and one for gramps."

Officers said they could find no suitcase or black Bible in the trailer. There was a white Bible in the living room but police said there was nothing inserted in it.

Ford Stock Hits Low as Holders Meet First Time

DETROIT (AP) — Some 2,700 of the Ford Motor Company's new stockholders gave Henry Ford II and the auto firm a vote of confidence Thursday.

The company entertained the stockholders in a giant tent at the first annual stockholders meeting since Ford stock went on the open market last Jan. 18. The atmosphere was roughly that of a circus on Wall Street.

Those who attended pretty well illustrated the company claim that it was "an unusually large number of small stockholders" who bought the stock. On hand were children who invested their savings accounts, retired oldsters who live on their investments and a good many plain folks who came to get a whiff of the atmosphere of high finance.

Most of them bought their stock in the rush to buy at its $64.50 opening price. At mid-day, as President Henry Ford II was telling them of his confidence in the company, the price on the New York exchange was $4 1/2, a new low.

Martin has four children by a previous marriage. He married his second wife in 1950 and they are the parents of Dino, five, and Ricci, one.

Former Russian Republic Premier Now at Stanford

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — Alexander Kereny, premier of the short-lived Russian Republic before he was deposed by the Communist revolution, has arrived quietly on the Stanford University campus to do research for the Herbert Hoover Institute the United Press has learned.

The former Russian leader, now 75 years old, came to Stanford in February of this year, but no announcement of his assignment was made at the time.

Institute officials issued a statement confirming his appointment as a "research associate."

The institute said Kereny, who is expected to remain here "another 15 months or longer," has agreed to "cooperate in a research project undertaken by the Hoover Institute."

"The purpose of this project is to prepare for publication a collection of documents originating during the period of the short-lived provisional government," the announcement said.

Lashes Red Philosophy as Huge Failure

Appeals to Iron Curtain Peoples To Follow West

WACO, Tex. (AP) — President Eisenhower denounced world Communism today as a "gigantic failure" and advised the iron curtain people to "walk fearlessly in the fullness of human freedom" behind the leadership of the West.

Mr. Eisenhower in the academic background of Baylor University proposed as an antidote to world tensions the creation of a worldwide belt of technical and scientific schools to provide "a great two-way avenue of communication" between the East and West.

MR. EISENHOWER flew here early today to accept an honorary degree from Baylor. He conferred with Texas political leaders before flying back to Washington at 12:30 p.m. CST.

This was a long-advertised White House statement on foreign policy and Mr. Eisenhower, on the basis of this prepared text, seemed to be moving cautiously.

He was indignant about Communism, but shook out the Western banner in a manner to encourage iron curtain country defection from the Russian orbit.

HE CALLED world Communism "cruel, intolerant and atheistic," a doctrine of "lure, intimidation and force."

"Communism is, in deepest sense, a gigantic failure," he said. Mr. Eisenhower, former president of Columbia University and a man who regards himself as an educator after his historic role as a military commander, put out the proposition that knowledge holds the key to peace and international respect.

The whole free world would be stronger," he said, "if there existed adequate institutions of modern techniques and sciences in areas of the world where the hunger for knowledge and the ability to use knowledge are unsatisfied because educational facilities are often not equal to the existing need."

PROPOSING WHAT seemed to be an intellectual point four program, Mr. Eisenhower suggested that the great universities of this country join, "strongly supported," with private foundations in the devoted task of a broad educational program so that the prospects for peace and prosperity "would be mightily enhanced."

Mr. Eisenhower spoke before 11,200 persons, including 665 members of the Baylor graduating class, in Heart O'Texas auditorium.

President W. R. White of Baylor invited him to speak last November, when the President was recovering from his heart attack.

Chicago Tout Bearing Bomb Blown in Half

Police Theorize Missile Was Meant For Someone Else

CHICAGO (AP) — A dynamite bomb exploded in a man's arms on a sidewalk early today, blowing him in half.

Police identified the victim as Michael Campbell, 55, a former employee of a horse race handicap publication.

HOMICIDE CHIEF L. James McMahon said Campbell must have been carrying the powerful bomb when it exploded at 3:45 a.m. CDT. His body was cut in half and the lower portion was severely mangled.

The blast broke windows on both sides of the northwest side street for several hundred feet, ripped bark off trees, and caused serious damage to a car 40 feet away.

POLICE SAID it was possible that the bomb had been meant for somebody else in the residential neighborhood and went off too soon.

Police immediately started an investigation to determine whether a gambling war could be involved in the explosion.

Campbell lived on Chicago's South Side, far from the scene of his death. His wife said he went to work at 4 p.m. yesterday and didn't return. His car was found a block from his mangled body.

Ship Sights Plane In Sea Off L. A.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Norwegian freighter in the Pacific radioed today that a plane had crashed in the ocean near it and lifeboats were being put out for rescue.

Mackay Radio here said it picked up a distress signal from the motorship Castleville, a Klavenett Line Ship, at 10:05 a.m. PDT.

The inexperienced young Inyokern teacher scratched his head when a school kid asked him for a definition of the word "alabaster."

Finally he admitted, "I'm not downright sure, but it might be an illegitimate Mohammedan."

Indian Lands Now Open to Mortgage Loans

Individual Indian land owners now have the right to mortgage their land under approval of the Secretary of the Interior, through a law enacted in this session of Congress.

Mortgages are protected under the law, with provisions for foreclosure or sale in accordance with state law and pursuant to terms of the mortgage or trust deed if such foreclosure or sale is necessary, the Indian owner automatically receives an unrestricted fee title to the land.

It is anticipated that approval will not be granted by the Secretary of the Interior for any mortgages unless it can be shown that the purpose of the loan will benefit the Indian land owner, and that he can repay the loan.

Track Does Fine In Rocket Test But Not 'Rider'

HURRICANE MESA (AP) — "Hurricane Sam" got clobbered today when his parachute failed to open at the climax of the first public showing of "Smart," the super-sonic military air research track atop Hurricane Mesa.

Instead of being lowered gently by his white and orange parachute to the bottom of the mesa, "Sam," an instrument filled dummy who had just ridden a rocket sled at more than 600 miles an hour, went over the cliff with his legs and arms flailing wildly.

"He must have got busted up bad," moaned George Smith, North American aviation test pilot who in February of 1955 became the only man to survive an actual supersonic bailout.

But operators of the test track said the rockets propelling the sled down the slender steel rails had performed perfectly.

Premiere Plane's Arrival Advanced

Arrival time of the special American Airlines plane bringing newsmen here for the premiere, has been advanced one-half hour to 6:30 p.m., tonight.

The group will be met by the Palm Springs Mounted Police, the Palm Springs Debs, and the Hal White Trip from the Ranch Club. It is expected that many Villagers also will be there to welcome the visiting newsmen.

The premiere of Bob Hope's latest picture, "That Certain Feeling," will be tomorrow night at the Plaza Theater. Tickets are still available.

Thousand Palms Residents Storm School Board With Futile Protest

Residents of Thousand Palms poured into the meeting room of the board of education last night to protest the possibility that their school would be discontinued, although no such intention was given by the board, which was in the process of acquiring a new school site in that community.

The board was discussing the possibility of acquiring 10 acres of land just off Ramon road on School House Road, when the people from Thousand Palms started to fight the issue, believing that the school would be discontinued if the property was acquired. Almost a year ago, against the recommendation of the administration, the board of education kept the school. Under the $2-125,000 school building program. One item is the acquisition of a school site at Thousand Palms.

The issue was resolved on a motion by Dr. Hugh Stephens, directing the administration to make an offer for the 10 acres of land, without a trade of the present two-acre school site, and report to the board at the meeting one month from last night. The original proposal was to pay $1,000 dollars an acre for the land and sell the present school site for an equal amount per acre.

Probers Charge Teachers Here Fear for Jobs

The abrupt refusal of the Board of Education to renew the teaching contract of Mrs. Loraine Thomas has created "widespread uncertainty and insecurity" among faculties in the schools here, two investigators for the California Teachers Association said this morning after an investigation.

In a written report to William Larson, president of the Palm Springs Faculty Club, the investigators for the California Teachers Association said this morning after an investigation.

That the district has not adopted a personnel policy, although personnel practices in the past have been generally reasonable and generous.

That Mrs. Thomas carried a full teaching load plus additional duties assigned by the administration.

That both the principal and superintendent had recommended her reemployment.

That the board gave no reason for her dismissal.

That Mrs. Thomas' personnel file contained no complaints.

That she is entitled to know why she was not offered a new contract.

The TCA field investigators, who came here at Mrs. Thomas' request, also commented that the decision of the board to overrule the administration "is distinctly unusual."

A hearing before the board of education in executive session was agreed on by the board last night, at which time the trustees will review with Mrs. Thomas the matter of not offering her a contract for the 1956-57 school year.

Arizona Labelled Drought Area

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has designated Arizona as drought disaster area, the first drought designation of the season.

The President's action, taken at the request of Gov. Ernest W. McFarland, empowered the secretary of agriculture to name specific areas in the states where farmers will be eligible for federal aid.

Supervisors Fail To Fix Size of Rancho Mirage

The Riverside county board of supervisors yesterday failed to reach a decision as to the number of "inhabitants" within the boundaries proposed for the incorporation of Rancho Mirage as a city of the sixth class. Unless the supervisors determine there are at least 500 inhabitants, an election will not be called.

June 18, the last day which the board has under the law to reach a determination as to the population, was set yesterday as the date for a final decision.

When the session opened yesterday morning the inhabitant count of the proponents, taken by Robert L. Biggs, owner of the American Research Service of Los Angeles, totaled 580, and that of the opponents, taken by Mrs. Lillian Cortisoz of Rancho Mirage, totaled 475.

By 3 p.m., after much wavering by persons questioned, opposing attorney John Babbage placed the count by the proponents at 458 and that by the opponents at 459. Later Babbage conceded 459 but William Shaw, attorney for the proponents, set the figure at 566.

Babbage said the proponents' survey list was inaccurate and unclear. "I question strongly," he said, "that there are 500 people within the boundaries of the area in which incorporation is proposed."

Supervisor George Berkey questioned Biggs as to his counting of tenants, over whom much of the disagreement has centered. "Have you included them just because they have spent six months there," he asked Biggs, "even though it is evident they do not intend to remain permanently and when they own a home elsewhere?"

Biggs retorted that the method and forms of the Department of Commerce Bureau of Census were followed explicitly and that therefore the six months residence formula was used regardless of intent as to the future.

Press Gives Stag For Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower joined other top government officials and Washington newsmen last night at the annual stag dinner of the Washington White House Correspondents Association.

A host of stage, movie and television stars presented the after-dinner entertainment.

Mr. Eisenhower told the correspondents they should have set up a bi-partisan commission to decide whether he should have worn a black or white dinner jacket to the affair.

"In this job, you know, it's not the hours but the decisions you have to make," he added.

Plans for the Desert Hot Springs school addition and bus ramps were approved by the board of education of the Palm Springs Unified School District last night, and architects Wexler and Harrison were directed to proceed with working drawings and specifications.

The addition will include a multipurpose room, which can be converted into classrooms, nurse's room, a kitchen and administration offices.

Cost estimated by Don Wexler was $90,550, compared to $99,000 allowed in the bond issue.

ONE OF THE COMEDY highlights of Bob Hope's latest picture, "That Certain Feeling," which will be premiered here Saturday night at the Plaza Theatre, is an abandoned song-and-dance routine featuring Hope and Eva Marie Saint. The film is a movie of the Broadway hit, "King of Hearts." Proceeds from the premiere go to the Hospital Auxiliary and the Cancer fund.

County Planners Defer Action on DHS Diagonal

No recommendation on Desert Hot Springs' controversial diagonal road will be made by the County Planning Commission for the time being.

That was the decision of the commission, following an executive session this week.

Commission members said, following the meeting, that they want more time in which to obtain expressions of public opinion.

Spokesmen for the planners also made these points:

- 1—WHETHER the diagonal is or isn't built will have no bearing on the improvement of Dillon Road and other roads in the area. Even if the decision is made to build the diagonal, commission members said, improvement of Dillon will be undertaken first.
 - 2—The commission does not want the diagonal to be a "speedway." Present plans call for traffic lights at the diagonal's intersection with Dillon, and at its Palm Drive terminus.
 - 3—The commission feels that its overall plan provides against the bypassing of either Dos Palmas or the west side of town.
- The commission envisages a limited access road leaving the diagonal approximately at the location of the present Camino Aventura, and running east to serve Dos Palmas.

HALF A MILE north of this limited access road, would be a second short limited access road connecting the diagonal with Palm Drive. This limited access road would form a right angle with West Drive.

Development and improvement of West Drive from Pierson Blvd. to the point where it would intersect with the diagonal is also contemplated by the commission.

Traffic bound for the west side of town would follow the diagonal only to West Drive, then swing left and take West Drive to Pierson.

The diagonal itself would strike Palm Drive just below Two Bunch Palms Road.

Widening of Palm Drive from the point of its intersection with the diagonal, to Hacienda Avenue also would be undertaken.

Cast Announced for Playerstage Play Next Week

An impressive cast of resident actors is now in rehearsal for the Palm Springs Playerstage Production of William Inge's prize winning play, "Come Back, Little Sheba," which opens a six night run at the American Legion Theatre Auditorium Wednesday, May 30, Memorial Day.

Producer-director Martin Beck has assembled an outstanding cast of local stars, including several who will make their debut at the Playerstage.

In the lead role of Lola, which Shirley Booth originated on the Broadway stage and then repeated in the movie, Verkina Beck again undertakes a very challenging role. Miss Booth won the coveted "Oscar" for her interpretation and again, as she did in her role of Seraphina in "The Rose Tattoo," Verkina Beck recreates an "Oscar" role.

In the male lead of "Doc," John Thalls comes into his own at the Playerstage with his first lead. This role is an extremely sensitive one as the actor must portray a reformed alcoholic who has a tremendous inner struggle.

Bill Milner, seen many times and remembered for his acting in "The Moon is Blue," plays the role of young Turk, the athletic youth. In the romantic lead, opposite Milner Bunny Hageman plays the role of vivacious Marie, a role which shot Terry Moore to stardom.

Completing the cast are veteran Playerstage performers, Jean Patane and John Kramer, with newcomers George Demestic and Tony Polumbo seen in two humorous sequences, Rock Hurrell and Hank La Fuente.

Performances for "Sheba" will run Wednesday through Monday, June 4, on the stage of the re-refrigerated American Legion Theatre, 400 North Belardo Road. Tickets are now on sale at any downtown drug or music store or the Chamber of Commerce. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m.

Civic Chorus to Sing at Choral Concert of Regional Convention

The Palm Springs Civic Chorus, under the direction of Harry Tomlinson, will travel to Los Angeles by special bus Sunday afternoon to sing for the Choral Concert of the Southwest Regional Convention of the National Federation of Music Clubs.

The program will be held at 3 p.m., Sunday, in the Greek Theatre in Griffith Park. The National Federation of Music Clubs is the largest musical organization in the world, and biennial convention is an important feature in the musical life of the Southwest.

It is an honor for the Civic Chorus to be chosen for this event, as it is the only choir outside the Los Angeles area to be invited to sing.

Officers of the Federation, who heard the Palm Springs Civic Chorus present its program in the Sunday evening musical series of the First Congregational Church in Los Angeles last season, selected the Palm Springs Chorus to sing for the convention on the basis of musical standards and the excellence of choral interpretation.

Harry Tomlinson, director, has chosen the Brahms' setting of Schiller's poem "Nanie" as the number to be sung. It has been a favorite of the choir and of its audiences both in Palm Springs and in the Hemet Bowl. Christine Tomlinson will accompany the Chorus.

The Civic Chorus will also join with four other choirs in the closing selection "The Heavens Are Telling" from Haydn's Creation, an oratorio with which the Civic Chorus opened its series here last season.

Something to Avoid

DETROIT (AP) — Karl Kramer, fourth grade teacher at the Jackson School, was a little too realistic in showing his pupils how a volcano erupts. Kramer molded a miniature volcano out of clay and placed charcoal in the crater. He lit the charcoal and poured alcohol into the crater. Two pupils were burned in the ensuing eruption.

Bill Bronstein, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and Adele Colgan, special representative of the Hotel and Apartment Association were seated on the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday. It was announced by Chamber Manager Jimmy Cooper.

Mrs. Colgan was named to the board because Harry Paisley, new president of the hotel association, is already a director of the Chamber. Mrs. Colgan was a representative last year as president of the association.

Where Madness Begins
(The Detroit News)

According to the latest intelligence estimate put before Congress, the Soviet Union is now armed with 100 Bison bombers, which compare with the long-range B-52s, the H-bomb carrier of United States Air Force.

It is on record that our B-52 fleet is less than half the size of the Russian build-up of Bisons. This unfavorable comparison is the Air Force case for an expanded program. The discussion, says the New York Times, has caused "confusion and dismay in the capital."

In that state of mind, the government could be stampeded into new programs not justified by hard facts or sound security considerations. Is there reason, then, to question the case as presented? There is indeed.

Let us go back just one year. Our intelligence was then so badly informed that it categorically denied the existence of such a plane as the Bison. The Russians disclosed the secret by demonstrating the bomber during the May Day parade.

It is sensible to believe that an intelligence system which couldn't even learn that the plane was in development has in one year become so perfected that it penetrates right to the production line?

One Instant to Kill
(The Detroit News)

The motor vehicle in motion is a dangerous instrument capable of inflicting injury or death even at moderate speeds of 30 miles an hour or less.

This has been said so often that the statement long ago lost an stirring quality it once might have had. It is seldom in the forefront of consciousness while driving or otherwise. People who would not entrust a 14-year-old child with a loaded revolver will authorize him to use the family car, as they lawfully may do in Michigan.

"Everybody" drives nowadays. Familiarity has bred contempt for the dangers. It is only lately that the dreadful tally of highway deaths has forced realization that everybody does not drive equally well. Many licensed to drive lack even a 14-year-old's moral sense and conception of responsibility.

The plan to have police cite for license re-examination drivers they consider peculiarly dangerous recognizes this. Several states in the east, and more recently Ohio and Indiana, have done so in a still more formal way, setting up

Or is the answer rather that having had its rose-colored glasses shattered, it now see boogey bears under every bed?

If the guess even approximates truth, it jolts hard. For it would mean, in essence, that the Russians have advanced technically so fast and far that they can solve "teething problems" in great plane production more skillfully than Americans.

That has greater significance than any random estimate of how we stand, plane for plane, in any category. As with all other weapons, our strength level in B-52s should be determined, not by what the Russians count in competing armament, but by what we need for deterring effect and balance within our own system.

Taking the intelligence estimate at face value, it puts no reasonable limit on what Russia might build. Within a few years, possessing 500 H-bomb carrying Bisons, she alone could destroy the civilized world. But to compete with her to that end would be madness, for if the deterrence principle has any virtue, we need no such force to keep Russians from starting the war that must end in mutual obliteration.

"point" systems for scoring drivers. Under these systems drivers responsible for accident or traffic law violations accumulate demerits toward a total bringing automatic re-examination or license revocation.

This continuous screening of drivers has been termed a success. It gradually removes from the highways at least those drivers provedly accident-prone. It is enough of a success, we think, to justify not merely the plan now launched in Michigan, but also adoption here of the point system, which leaves less to the discretion of local officers.

However, it is well to note that it is not a cure-all and, like the state's new speed limits, is bound to disappoint anyone so regarding it. The "dangerous driver" contributes more than his share to the accident total. But it is the rest of us nevertheless who contribute the lion's share. We are all at times dangerous drivers — and it takes but one instant to kill. If only we could induce all drivers to bear that constantly in mind, accidents would be of far rarer occurrence.

ROBERT S. ALLEN:

WASHINGTON—Nelson Rockefeller is being strongly urged to run for the Senate.

President Eisenhower heartily favors that. But the 46-year-old grandson of the famous oil magnate is still undecided about seeking the seat held by Senator Herbert Lehman (D-N.Y.).

Lehman also hasn't made up his mind about a second term. Democratic chiefs are very anxious for him to try for it, as they rate him the party's most potent candidate to retain this vital senatorship. But Lehman is 76, and while active and in good health, is uncertain about continuing in public office.

Rockefeller has held high posts under three Presidents, but has never run for an elective one. The late President Roosevelt appointed him Coordinator of Inter-American Affairs, and then Assistant Secretary of State for Latin America. Former President Truman named Rockefeller chairman of the Internal Development Advisory Board which launched the Point Four phase of the foreign aid program. Under President Eisenhower, Rockefeller became Undersecretary of the newly-created Department of Health, Education and Welfare, later shifted to the White House as special assistant on psychological warfare.

Last December, Rockefeller resigned to resume management of his extensive business and cultural interests.

Both New York and national Republican leaders want him for the Senate. They consider Rockefeller especially well suited to run on a ticket headed by the President. National Chairman Leonard Hall enthusiastically views such a combination as "unbeatable."

Former Governor Thomas Dewey is also credited with being for Rockefeller. Some GOP chiefs have proposed Dewey for the Senate, but he is evincing no desire to return to public affairs.

NOTE: Mayor Robert Wagner is the Democrats' likely choice if Senator Lehman retires. Wagner's father was elected three times to the Senate as a militant New Dealer, and the New York Mayor's great ambition is to serve there.

DEMOCRATIC POLITICALS — House Floor Leader John McCormack, Mass., has declined to again head the key Platform Committee at the national convention in Chicago. The veteran legislator filled this difficult role in 1952, and was largely responsible for the compromise civil rights plank. National Chairman Butler tried to persuade McCormack to accept the job this year, but he declined in order to have more time for the tense nomination battle. . . . California's National Committee woman Clara A. Shipper is winning a lot of support for her proposal to bar parading at the convention and to limit demonstrations to 15 minutes. Her resolution imposing such restrictions will be definitely considered by the Rules Committee. . . . Former Agriculture Secretary Charles Brannan is after two political prizes. In addition to his announced candidacy for the Senate for the seat held by Senator Eugene Milliken (R-Colo.), Brannan also has his eye on the vice presidential nomination. He is an active booster of Governor Averell Harriman, and aspires to be the New Yorker's running mate if he is named. . . . Biggest concern of Senator Stuart Symington, another "inactive" dark-horse hopeful, is getting too far out in front too soon. The tall, elegant Missourian is cautioning friends not to boom him too vigorously for the present. Symington is advising restraint until all the state primaries are over and the status of the leading contenders is clearer.

GOP POLITICALS — Ambassador John Sherman Cooper won high praise from an unexpected source when he testified before the House Foreign Affairs Committee in favor of the President's multi-billion dollar foreign aid budget. The former Republican Senator from Kentucky was warmly lauded by Democratic Committee men. Said Representative Clement Zablocki (D-Wis.): "You are doing a fine job for the U.S. You have been an excellent Ambassador." To which Representative James Richards, S.C., chairman, added, "I am sure you will especially appreciate having Democrats brag about you."

Cooper, who is planning to run for the Senate again, beamingly expressed his thanks for the unusual commendation. . . . California's popular and astute Governor Goodwin Knight is being urged by White House insiders for appointment as Secretary of Interior. That has been vacant since Secretary Douglas McKay quit several months ago to run for the Senate. Knight's backers are pointing out he would be sure of speedy Senate confirmation, in contrast to others who have been proposed. A long and bitter fight has been openly threatened if Undersecretary Clarence Davis is named as McKay's successor.

They Could Freeze Out in November

Like I always say—there's a silver cloud to every lining.

Now you take fellows like Merrill Crockett, Bill Rashall, and others of their category, very thin on top.

They may be kidded about it but they can laugh last.

Because I read in the public prints this morning that the price of hair-cuts is going to zoom up another quarter.

A buck seventy-five is what the barbers are planning to ask. Perhaps this dates me but I can remember when for a total of 40 cents you could get a haircut (two-bits) add a shave (15 cents).

And a shine was a nickel.

PERUSING the public prints further in an effort to improve my mind, I saw where Dr. Arthur C. Curtis of the U. of Michigan says that there'll come a time when there will be no more blue-eyed blondes—or any other kind of blondes.

He says we are evolving (that is a word?) toward a brunette race here in America.

But I think there always will be the blondes, that someone said once, gentlemen prefer.

By the same process we have some blondes now.

THE TIME is coming pretty soon for two of the most aggravating banalities extant.

a—The postcard from a traveling Villager: "Slept under two blankets last night," and b—The inquiry from a person you meet on P. Canyon Drive: "Is it hot enough for you?"

People who ask me the latter are going to be surprised. For I am going to answer:

"In 1955 there were 132,400,000 radio sets in America, 'or' 'Roundworms do the greatest damage to young pigs. Wormy pigs are stunted and unthrifty."

They may send for the Men in White but they won't ask me again.

INTERESTING sight noted yesterday. A station wagon occupied by four men drew up astride a driveway in the 100 block on North Indian.

Each man reached down, produced a bottle of beer, and solemnly drained it. Not a word was said. Although the carbonated beverage took care of the sound effects.

At least, they didn't throw the empties into the gutter. Probably redeemable.

ALONG ABOUT the middle of July that hooker of your favorite beverage may cost a little more. Council went ahead with its plan for a use tax which will affect on and off sale liquor sales.

But don't let it spoil the flavor or the effect.

Every slug means so much for the retirement fund for city workers.

I LIKE THIS STORY of the stenographer who asked her boss how to spell "sense."

"Which one?" he asked. "Dollars and cents or horse sense." "Well, neither," she said. "But like in 'I haven't seen him sense.'"

And also this one about the Sweet Young Thing who hailed a taxicab and directed the driver to the maternity hospital.

"But don't rush," she admonished. "I just work there."

MIKE CONNOLLY:

Movie Planned for Roy Rogers

HOLLYWOOD — Libby Holman is leasing the penthouse of Hollywood's Chateau Marmont, at $1,000 a month, for her friend Montgomery Clift. He'll convalesce there from his recent auto accident. . . . Sonny Whitney and Meriam Cooper have a western on the front burner for Roy Rogers, who hasn't made a movie since "Son of Paleface," with Bob Hope, in 1951. With all the dough Roy makes from rodeos, records, comic books, TV shows, etc., who needs movies? . . . Mercury Records changed songbird Lola Amos's name to Lola Dee, but that didn't seem to fit her so now they've changed it again, to Kitty Nation. . . . Zsa Zsa Gabor and Hal Hayes hop to Africa Thursday. Zsa Zsa tells me it's just for a "look around." . . . Lance Brissan, son of Roz Russell and Fred Brissan, got himself a newspaper route in Beverly Hills.

Looks like Jean Simmons and Gordon MacRae for the Mary Martin-Ezio Pinza roles in the movie version of "South Pacific." . . . Janie Powell hasn't eaten any ice cream since she was hypnotized into thinking she hates the stuff at an Arlene Dahl-Fernando Lamas party. . . . Lamases, incidentally, may have their first movie together. Arlene and Fernando have been offered the leads in "Duo," to be filmed in Italy by Alessandro Pallavicini after Fernando finishes "The Vagabond and the Woman" with Elsa Martinelli over there. . . . Jack Smith says no one is letter perfect, especially the one who puts his love in writing.

SHOW BUSINESS paid a magnificent tribute to Jean Hersholt at the Beverly Hills Hotel, in honor of Jean's 50th year as an actor and humanitarian. . . . Mary Pickford summed up beautifully what all of us feel for Jean: "Denmark lost a great citizen and we gained one. May God bless you, Jean, and keep you in all your ways, because we need you so very much and there is no one any place who can take your place." . . . Jerry Lewis, never funnier, said "This is a $100-a-plate benefit dinner for Mount Sinai Hospital. I saw Jack Warner giving a waiter a $40 tip. Not in cash — in two $20 olives!" . . . Jerry on the subject of NBC veeep John West: "John was born to be an executive. Even as a baby he wore charcoal gray diapers."

BILL RASHALL

Unedited

Most human beings and nearly all of the animal kingdom nurse an abhorrent fear of anything that crawls, especially snakes.

The death of the 14-month old Cleary baby as a result of a snake bite, the other day shocked the entire resort area and it can happen again and again during the hot summer months on the desert.

When an infant and on up to a child of 10 or 12 is struck by the fangs of a rattler, medical authorities will tell you that the fight to save the life of such a child is most desperate. In the case of infants it is usually fatal. It is quite often fatal at the other extreme of life — old age. I remember last summer when an elderly resident of Angel Springs was struck by the fangs of a rattler. He killed the snake and then became panic stricken. He rushed down the road for an automobile to transport him to the hospital when instead he should have, had he known, applied first aid measures.

Cornered Dr. Clarence Smith, curator of the Desert Museum in order to ask a few questions which I could pass on to parents of small children and to adults for that matter as well.

He believes that the Cleary baby was hit by a sidewinder which is a member of the rattlesnake family. Said Dr. Smith about this reptile:

"THEY ARE MORE abundant this summer than they have been for a long time. I precautionary measure should be taken against this venomous snake by clearing all debris in and around the house. This snake, as do others, crawls under shady spots during the heat of the day and emerges around twilight."

"Where there are children in the family who like to play around the house, the parents should make an inspection of the grounds at least three or four times a week, poking into shady spots with a stick. Such snakes travel within a certain orbit and if your front or back yard lies within its scope of travel it will pay a visit there."

"If you should hear the hissing rattle of a snake by all means stand still until you know from whence the sound comes and discover the snake. Of course it is highly possible that you may surprise the reptile by stepping upon it or by coming so close, the frightened snake will strike. Children should wear shoes when playing out of doors, during the evening especially."

"When struck by a snake do not become panicky," continued Dr. Smith. "Apply a tourniquet above the bite and cut one-quarter of an inch into the spot where the snake struck. If you can get someone with no abrasions in mouth to suck as much of the venom as possible out of the wound. Keep the tourniquet tight and rush the victim to the hospital."

That's about it and that's what I've been yelling at Peg about ever since several of our hot days descended upon us. Of course, I too, am worried about that little fireball called Kater.

Our deepest sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Cleary which in effect is the same expression of the entire town.

NOSTALGICALLY LET's talk about some more of the old timers in this town who could with their anecdotes fill all or a part of a chapter in a book. Lillie Goff and Henrietta Parker, and Carl Lykken who could give with a few lines. And then there are a few in this town if they talked and they won't, who would make the skeletons in some of the closets shake with awe. What a clattering noise they would make.

Remember, too, the entire McKinney family and there's one who is now one of our city councilmen — May the Lord guide his steps. He needs guidance on a job such as he has. Then let's skip over to Mrs. Ruth Hardy, a sweetheart of mine, regardless of what she may think of me, who learned about newspapermen once upon a time but it took most of one night to convince her that we were not all rats. That happened in the presence of her friends and the police of that day some five or six years ago. Harry Brot and family and his son, Kenny, who works for this newspaper now, and Harry could descriptively describe a few of the characters who have and are living in our midst today. There is John Connors too, who came through here for the first time in 1910 and now owns a palatial home here, and who could if he would utter a few sentences but he won't either.

What a tight mouthed town this is!

EARL WILSON:

Our Surprise Parties

NEW YORK — I claim to be an expert on birthday surprise parties as I have been the guest of honor at two surprise parties at which I was not surprised.

A couple of years ago Jackie Gleason inadvertently tipped me off.

My Beautiful Wife had sent an invitation to Jackie in care of Toots Shor's.

The B.W. had signed it "Rosemary Wilson."

Rosemary Williams, the model, was in the news then, with stories about a boy friend and some gambling.

I was at a table in Toots Shor's when Jackie came in and was handed the invitation. He ripped it open, glanced at it, and thrust it at me.

"What's this broad Rosemary Williams writing to me about?" he asked.

I read it through. "Jackie," I said, "you have just handed me your invitation to my wife's surprise party for me."

Jackie was full of apologies—I said apologies—and sent a floral piece to the party as big as he was.

Not long ago, Gary Wagner, the photographer, wanted to give me a surprise party.

"I can do it," vowed Gary, who arranged a party for a couple of hundred at Ruby Foo's. But it was to be, not on my birthday, a Thursday, but three nights later, a Sunday.

Not a hint of it came to me until the Wednesday night before, when I met singer Julie Wilson—in Toots Shor's.

"I'm coming to your birthday party Sunday night," she volunteered.

So that was the end of that surprise. Beautiful Julie was given the Blabbermouth Award.

What is the surprise supposed to do? Pretend to be surprised? I wanted to hide behind the door at Ruby Foo's and — as each guest arrived — leap out and yell "Surprise!" However, I wasn't allowed.

Since that, Gloria Vanderbilt gave a successful surprise party for not one but two surprises, Dick Avedon the photographer, and Arnold Krakauer, the lawyer.

I asked her how she did it without anybody tattling, and she said, "Easy—I just told everybody to keep their mouth shut." Shucks, I guess nobody in Our Set had thought of that.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Here's a Bombshell: Gina Lollobrigida and Howard Hughes' attorneys made a new, secret deal in Rome May 17 for both Gina and her husband, Dr. Mike Skofic, to make films in the U.S. for or with Hughes or under his guidance. . . . Frank Sinatra's deeply hurt at reports he gave Ava Gardner a Madrid brushoff. Claims he was cordial.

Mae West fired muscle man Chuck Mahoney after he'd dated Latin Quarter beauty Chick James. . . . Grace Kelly's former sec'y, Nadia Woods, is writing a tongue-in-cheek but friendly book about her part in the wedding.

The Jack Kellys dined at TS's; first trip to NY together since Monaco. . . . David Gimbel was back with blonde beauty Melissa Weston at El Morocco. . . . Jayne Meadows'll leave "I Have Got A Secret" 6 weeks to play summer-circuit "Tea and Sympathy."

Pianist Errol Garner's hospitalized with head injuries after a cab crash, but saved his hands. . . . Art Carney's in demand for summer stock. "We'll take him, even if he only recites 'The Lord's Prayer,'" one producer said. . . . Latest Patti Page - Charlie O'Curran marriage date: Labor Day. . . . Ruth Kuzub, a dancer in "Fanny," makes her film debut in "Trapeze."

Dag Hammarskjold will visit Moscow next month with a White House peace proposal. . . . Lauritz Melchior underwent surgery in Los Angeles. . . . Hedley Woodhouse, the diminutive jockey, tried to get into the crowded Blue Angel; the headwaiter told him, "Yours is the only size we can handle tonight!" . . . A new quartet calls itself "Der Bingles."

Since the Montgomery Clift auto crash, MGM won't let Lee Marvin drive his motorcycle. . . . Larry ("Dipsy Doodle") Clinton and Glen ("Casa Loma") Gray are reorganizing their famed bands. . . . At Gary Crosby's pre-induction party a friend said, "Hey, why don't you ask your father to buy the Army so you won't have to go?"

EARL'S PEARLS . . . "Right after the moon gets itself full, it finds itself down to the last quarter." — Tom Kelly, Emmetsburg, Iowa.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "A bore is a guy who'd rather change his friends than his topic." — Lou (Gilmore's) Levin.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Rusty Draper claims she saw a TV movie so old it was sponsored by Stutz autos.

Comic Dick Shawn, who was a hit at the Eden Roc in Miami Beach, explains he drinks only on special occasions: "Such as sunset or weekdays." . . . That's earl, brother.

Coined in Palm Springs . . . of and for Palm Springs . . . fantabulous is a word that is the brain child of Oliver Jaynes . . . Soroptimists Announce Award of Scholarship Soroptimists International of Palm Springs have awarded their annual scholarship for a course in nursing to Joanne Colburn, 3914 Calle San Raphael, who will graduate on Friday, June 1, from Palm Springs High School. Joanne has wanted to become a nurse as long as she can remember, she told members of the scholarship committee who interviewed her. She hopes to receive her training at Good Samaritan Hospital in Los Angeles.

At Tuesday's luncheon meeting, Lucille Johnson reported that she had attended the President's Council in Riverside, at which Marjorie Smith of Taunton, England, was guest speaker. Jane Dill presented a five minute explanation of the bond issue of Riverside County Hospital on the June 5 ballot and urged that all citizens vote "yes" on this question.

Georgia Corporon of Palm Desert, and Helen White of Lafayette, California, were visiting Soroptimists at the Tuesday luncheon. Wynne Hammond, president announced that the meeting on Tuesday, May 29, will be a business meeting at which the new officers will be chosen for the coming year.

Summer Dining is Informal in the Garden Room

Enjoying the summer informality of the Biltmore Garden Room were Mr. and Mrs. Milo Bekins of Beverly Hills and Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Shaw. Shaw is general counsel and secretary for Bekins, who heads Bekins Van and Storage Company.

Dr. and Mrs. Henry L. Dollard, of Palm Springs and La Jolla, were dining there with his son and daughter-in-law, who have recently returned from a two and a half year stay abroad, where he was with SHAPE.

BAR MITZVAH services were held at Isalah Temple on Saturday for Howard Michael Spiegelman, who was honored at a reception given by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley T. Spiegelman at the Rossmore Hotel on Sunday afternoon.

Bar Mitzvah Reception Honors Son

More than 75 Villagers and visitors gathered in the inner patio of the Rossmore hotel to honor Howard Michael Spiegelman, son of Stanley and Mildred Spiegelman.

The occasion marked the celebration of Howard's Bar Mitzvah an event in the Jewish religion which occurs when a male member of the family reaches 13 years of age. Henceforth, Howard will be permitted to stand on the altar of the Temple to which he, like adult men, may be called to "read from the Torah." In addition he was given a gift of a prayer shawl called a tallis. The phrase Bar Mitzvah, it was explained by Rabbi Leon Rosenberg, means that the "commandments of Howard's religion now fall equally upon his shoulders as it does upon other men of that faith. Following cocktails, a sumptuous repast buffet style was served by the parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Marcus (he owns theatres in Milwaukee and Madison, Wisconsin) have been vacationing at the Palm Springs Biltmore.

TODAY'S SPORT PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.

NEW YORK (U)—This is C-day for the Milwaukee Braves. That stands for Conley and a possible championship. Because big Gene, the sore-armed pitcher, comes off the disabled list today with glowing medical reports.

Nor can you blame the Braves for cheering. Because there they are, right up at the top, and to date this season they've been completely without the services of the towering right-hander described in the spring by Manager Charley Grimm as "the key to our pennant hopes."

IT IS TO BE hoped for the sake of a tight National League race, that the cheering isn't premature. Yet there seems to be a strange concentration on the mental aspects of the Conley case.

"His arm feels great," Grimm reported as he prepared to welcome the six-foot, eight-inch right-hander back to the active playing list. "And he has the right mental attitude."

Observers traveling with the club insist, too, that Conley is throwing as of old but then add, tapping a finger against their foreheads:

"The question is, how is he up here?"

CONLEY, PLAGUED by a sore arm which put him on the sidelines last August after he tore a shoulder muscle, admitted in the spring that sore arms can become a mental hazard.

"A lot of pitchers worry after having a sore arm," he asserted. "Many of them are afraid to cut loose again for fear that the arm will go bad again. But that isn't going to happen to me."

So what happened? CONLEY'S ARM went bad again in spring training and he was left behind in Florida to bake it as the club came north and opened the season without him. You can understand why Grimm is a bit jittery as he welcomes Conley back with the club. It begins to look increasingly possible that the "old man" of the Dodgers may have had it. Some of the Dodger writers, who see them every day, won't make a prediction on whether the club can jell and win a hot pennant fight.

And Grimm needs a pennant, according to reports, to hold his job. A CONLEY WHO was sound in every department would, Grimm admits, "be a tremendous lift." The 25-year-old Gene was the wonder of the American Assn. in 1953 at Toledo, where he was sent to develop a curve after an 11-4 season at Milwaukee. Returning in 1954 he had a 14-9 mark and was hotter than an electric blanket with a short circuit early last season. By mid-July he had won 11 games. Then came the arm trouble and he was through.

"I've been watching him throw and he looks great," Grimm says. "We'll know for sure when we get home from this road trip."

It will be an interesting afternoon for Conley, Grimm and the entire National League.

Humez 13-10 in Fullmer Battle

NEW YORK (U)—Frenchman Charles Humez, middleweight champion of Europe, and Utah's Gene Fullmer, outstanding American contender, fight tonight in Madison Square Garden for the fight to a shot at the world crown.

Humez, 29, is favored at 13-10 to win their nationally televised and broadcast 10-rounder, which starts at 10 p.m. EDT.

Fullmer, 24, has been well supported in the heavy betting, which was at "even money" until Wednesday night, when veteran Humez began to forge ahead.

Mantle May Be Headed for All-Time Baseball Records

Could Top All if Early Pace is Maintained

Records of Sisler, Cobb, Gehrig and Ruth Threatened

By FRED DOWN

United Press Sports Writer
Make believe there really is a Mickey Mantle and then concede he'll continue his current slugging heroics through the entire season.

If you can—and why not dream for a while?—then the New York Yankees' 24-year-old center-fielder is going to be a composite of Babe Ruth, Ty Cobb, Lou Gehrig and George Sisler in their greatest years!

It sounds fantastic but that's what you get if you pro-rate Mantle's slugging in the Yankees' first 35 games over the 154-game campaign. Besides, isn't that what the Yankee publicity men have been saying all along?

THE RED-HOT OKLAHOMA kid went on another rampage Thursday when he smashed five hits, including his 17th homer of the year and four singles, in leading the Yankees to an 11-4 victory over the Detroit Tigers. In addition to homers, he now leads the majors with a .421 average, 56 hits, 39 runs scored, 39 runs batted in and 117 total bases.

It helps to explain why the Yankees lead the American League by three games when those figures are translated into a 154-game season as follows:

G-154, AB-585, R-171, H-246, 2B-35, 3B-4, HR-75, TB-514, RBI-171, Pct. — .421.

FANTASTIC? Look at it this way: Such a performance would break Ruth's season homer mark by 15 and the Babe's total base record of 457. It would top Cobb's .420 average in his greatest season. In addition, it would fall six short of Ruth's record mark, 11 shy of Sisler's record for hits and 13 below Gehrig's RBI standard.

The figures, arrived at by multiplying Mantle's current "line" by 44, suggest still another question: How come the Yankees haven't won 35 straight?

Mantle's slugging proved catching Thursday as the Yankees blasted out 17 hits for the second straight game. Ed Robinson contributed a grand slam homer and Joe Collins and Andy Carey also homered as the Yankees rolled to their eighth victory in their last nine games.

WILLIE JONES, beamed by Brooklyn pitcher Don Newcombe during spring training, walloped two homers and a single to lead the Philadelphia Phillies to a 6-4 victory over the Dodgers in the only other major league game.

Robin Roberts yielded homers to Duke Snider, Carl Furillo and Jackie Robinson but was touched for only seven hits and struck out nine batters in gaining his fifth triumph of the season.

PCC to Probe Case Against SC Schmitt May Call Special Meeting

LOS ANGELES (U)—Pacific Coast Conference Commissioner Victor O. Schmidt today was expected to receive the "documentary evidence" reportedly accusing the University of Southern California with paying $71,325 to 60 athletes in the last two years.

Schmidt returned here yesterday from the historical PCC session in which UCLA was hit with a heavy fine and the Bruin football ruled ineligible for a year.

THE COMMISSIONER had no comment on charges by J. Miller Leavy, UCLA alumnus and deputy district attorney, that a USC alumni group supplied Trojan athletes with extra funds. It was over illegal pay to athletes that UCLA received its slapping from the PCC.

Leavy said he had compiled "documentary evidence" and sent it to Schmidt's office here. "If the charges are substantiated by an investigation of my office that warrant a special conference meeting, it could be called," Schmidt said after arriving here from Victoria, B.C. He said, however, he had not received the document and would not comment on it.

MEANWHILE, the mystery organization accused by Leavy of paying Trojan athletes was identified as the Southern California Educational Foundation. Records on file with the corporation division of the county clerk's office disclosed the payments but names of the recipients were withheld from public viewing.

The clerk's office said the foundation was founded as a non-profit corporation in 1949 and listed as its incorporators 28 prominent citizens including Superior Court Judges Clement D. Nye and Clarence Kincaid.

Expect 7 to 3 Big Ten Vote for Bowl Pact

Faculty Group in Minneapolis for Ballot on Renewal

By ED SAINSBURY

United Press Sports Writer
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (U)—The Big Ten will settle today whether to renew its 10-year Rose Bowl contract with the Pacific Coast Conference for an indefinite period.

Both faculty representatives and athletic directors will vote at the annual spring meeting to determine whether to accept the Pacific Coast Conference's invitation to continue the pact.

It will be the second vote on the invitation, and there was no doubt the bid would be accepted. The conference voted in Lansing, Mich., in March at the winter meeting to accept the pact 7-3.

BUT BECAUSE the acceptance involved waiver of the league rule against post-season competition, the faculty group of each member also had to approve. Minnesota rejected the pact to force the new vote.

Wisconsin and Northwestern also were opposed to the agreement in March, and their individual faculties did not change their attitude toward renewal. But they did not report their "no" opinion to the Big Ten.

Both Northwestern and Wisconsin were expected to vote against renewal again today along with Minnesota, but the votes of the other seven schools in favor of the pact were confirmed by the individual faculty votes and should be for the agreement again.

APPROVAL OF RENEWAL today does not mean complete acceptance of the Rose Bowl agreement under its previous terms. The Big Ten wants more tickets for the game and tickets in more favorable locations. Also the conference wants to retain the clause prohibiting one team from competing in two successive years.

Bobby Brocato, Swaps to Meet in Awaited Duel

By ALEX KAHN

United Press Sports Writer
INGLEWOOD (U)—Swaps and Bobby Brocato appear almost certain to meet in the $100,000 Californian at Hollywood Park Saturday to provide turf fans with a long-awaited event.

In recent winter and spring meetings, Bobby Brocato has emerged as the top handicap performer in the West, if not the nation, and western Turfmen look to the duel as a rivaling the Nashua-Swaps contests.

Swaps, despite recent trouble with a bad right hoof, looked like a sure starter in the mile and a sixteenth race, barring a last-minute infirmity.

Swaps will be defending his claim on the Californian which he won last year in the world's record time of 1:40 2/5, defeating Dermot and Mister Gus.

The two will carry equal weight of 127 pounds Saturday.

Top-notch competition should be provided by Mister Gus and Porthouse.

Vicki Blue "nosed out" Baby Alice Thursday to capture the $10,000 Inglewood Chamber of Commerce Purse. Mary Machree was third in the six-furlong race.

Vicki Blue raced the distance in 1:09 3/5 and paid $13.10.

Field for 500-Miler Shapes Up with 29 Already Assured

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., (U)—Observers speculated today that even the slowest of the 29 cars already qualified for the 500-mile Indianapolis Motor Speedway race have a good chance to make the 33-car starting field.

They based their opinions on this week's practice sessions during which few laps exceeding 140 miles per hour were turned in by the two dozen or so cars shooting for the remaining four positions.

BARRING ADVERSE WEATHER, the tentative starting lineup will be completed Saturday. The "bumping" begins with cars averaging the slowest speeds for the 10-mile test facing elimination by faster qualifiers.

The time trials end Sunday. Pat Flaherty of Chicago was last weekend's fastest qualifier, averaging 145.056 m.p.h. and 145.596 m.p.h. for one and four laps respectively to set new course records and win the pole position.

The average for the 29 qualifiers of 142.896 is more than four miles faster than last year's field.

Low man now is rookie Bill Garrett, who qualified Sunday at a clip of 140.559. Next in line is Ray Crawford at 140.884, followed by Jimmy Daywalt's 140.977.

THE RAILBIRDS figured their cars will withstand the assault because there simply are not enough speedy driver-car combinations left to oust them. At most, they said, four or six cars will be able to get up enough steam to average 140 m.p.h. or so around the brick-yard.

Those cars included the second Novi, scheduled to be driven by Eddie Russop and a conventional 4-cylinder creation with Johnny Tolan at the wheel.

ALSO CONSIDERED to have good chances were cars to be driven by veterans Duke Dinsmore and Jimmy Davies and rookie Buddy Cagle.

On the other hand, there was only an outside chance that Nino Farina's Italian-made Ferrari will make the grade.

The car has not reached 135 miles an hour in practice and its engine was stripped after tests with a fuel injection system. The car was scheduled to return to the track today for additional shake-down runs.

The majority of the pilots who qualified last weekend can relax until race day.

Still, officials expected plenty of car-hopping in last-minute efforts to crash the lineup and fans will need a racing "who's who" to keep abreast of track developments.

Gibson Tries for 3 Tennis Honors

PARIS (U)—Althea Gibson of New York, who already has gained the women's singles title round, hoped to reach the finals of two other divisions today in the French Tennis Championships.

The most improved player on the European circuit hardly had time to catch her breath as she teamed with Tony Vincent of Miami, Fla., for a mixed doubles semifinal match against Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., and Bob Howe of Australia.

Miss Gibson also was scheduled to compete in the semifinals of the women's doubles.

It was Miss Buxton who almost chased Miss Gibson out of the singles division Thursday, but the slender New Yorker overcame a slow start and the embarrassment of a broken shoulder strap to win, 2-6, 6-0, 6-4.

Slain Woman Found in Man's Locked Closet

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP) — A search was under way today for a Los Angeles bartender after a strangled body believed to be that of a well-to-do 23-year-old Philadelphia divorcee was found stuffed in a locked closet in his apartment.

Inspector Irwin Butler of the Carson City Police department said the murder victim had been identified tentatively as Mrs. Ann Harris Van Ryne, formerly of Philadelphia. She was believed to be the daughter of J. Andrew Harris III of Philadelphia, Butler said.

An all-points bulletin was issued for the arrest of William Roswell, 25-year-old bartender who resided in the apartment in which the attractive blonde's body was discovered.

Boswell vanished several days ago and was believed to have fled in one of the slain woman's three automobiles, Butler said.

Butler reported the woman's body was badly decomposed when it was discovered by the apartment landlord yesterday afternoon and she appeared to have been dead for several days.

The woman's body bore marks on the neck and she appeared to have been beaten about the head. Butler said an autopsy surgeon reported she was four or five months pregnant.

Joe M. Batugo Funeral Held

Requiem mass for Joe M. Batugo, 40, 495 East Arenas Road, who died Tuesday as a result of injuries suffered in an automobile accident May 18, was held at 9 a.m. today, at Our Lady of Solitude Church. Interment followed in Palm Springs cemetery.

Batugo, an employee of the Doll House, was the third victim of the accident. Dead at the scene were the occupants of the other car, Charles W. Greene, 39 South Gate, and Sidney W. Ingham, 32, Lynwood.

The accident occurred on Highway 99, about three miles below the Riverside county line in Imperial county. CHP officers reported the car driven by Greene was on the wrong side of the highway at the time of impact.

Survivors include three brothers, Joseph of San Fernando, Teddy of Hollywood, and George of El Centro, and his parents who still reside in the Philippine Islands.

1000 Fight High Water Menacing Bonners Ferry

By UNITED PRESS
One thousand soldiers and volunteers fought today to keep the softened dikes of Bonners Ferry, Idaho, from crumbling before a record flood crest.

The swollen Kootenai River went to a record height of 37 feet and threatened to spill over dikes and levees.

The town of 2,000 persons was not considered in serious danger, since most of the residential sections are on high ground. However serious damage to surrounding farmlands and lowlands was feared.

Unseasonably warm weather threatened to trigger another flood in Wyoming.

Civil Defense officials made preparatory plans to evacuate residents from the town of Wilson and Army Engineers worked around the clock to get ready for floods in the Jackson Hole area.

The danger came from a record mountain snow pack, which is melting faster than expected under the warm spring sun. The Snake River was rising steadily and rancher Clifford Hansen said all people could do was "wait and hope."

To the east frost grazed the spring grass in New England and welcome rain pelted Texas.

Frost was reported at Olean, N.Y., and it was freezing at Erie, Pa.

John Woods New Golf Club Head

John Woods, one of Palm Springs most enthusiastic golfers, will assume the duties of general manager of the Indian Wells Country Club Estates June 1, it was announced today.

The sporty nine-hole golf course, already laid out and ready for seeding will be open for play about January 1, it was also reported.

Woods, a resident of Palm Springs since 1937, had been engaged in the lumber business here and elsewhere for many years. Presently he is associated as an employee of the Palm Springs Builders Supply Company.

Milt Hicks, president of the new golfing plant said that "We are fortunate in obtaining the services of a man of Wood's caliber and we know that under his management the club will flourish."

Paul Prom of Thunderbird is vice president of the Indian Wells Country Club, and Eddie Susalla is the secretary. Woods and his wife Ruthy have a home here in Palm Springs, and she is treasurer of the Welfare and Friendly Aid Society.

Kills Naggling Wife
ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—The father of a five-year-old boy has confessed he killed his wife on Mother's Day, then buried her in the city dump. Robert Boesenellers, 30, said his wife Evelyn, 25, had "naggled him."

GRADUATION EXERCISES will be held tonight at Palm Valley School, private, coeducational day school for grades five through 12. Three classes will be honored during the evening, twelfth, eighth and sixth. Above are members of the eighth grade, left to right, first row, Clark Moor-

Broken Bottle Releases Polio Virus on Plane

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bottle of deadly polio virus broke aboard a Capital Airlines plane here Thursday night exposing at least 19 airline employees to possible paralyzing infection.

The plane was grounded in Pittsburgh after the accident was belatedly discovered. On the advice of Dr. Jonas E. Salk, everyone who had been near the virus was given immediate injections of gamma globulin and Salk vaccine.

Twenty-two passengers were aboard the plane for part of its flight from Baltimore, Md., to Pittsburgh. But airline officials said they were in no danger since the bottle broke in a baggage compartment.

Cyprus Governor Heads to London and Gun Guard

LONDON (AP)—Scotland Yard today ordered a "gun guard" to protect Field Marshal Sir John Harding when he arrives here early in June to discuss the future of Cyprus, informed sources reported.

Harding, governor general of riot-torn Cyprus, will fly here for talks with Prime Minister Anthony Eden despite reports that Cypriot gunmen have slipped into Britain to try and seek revenge on top British leaders.

Armed security guard protecting the royal family and government officials were strengthened following reports of the arrival of the Cypriot gunmen. Special precautions were taken for the Duke of Edinburgh because of his Greek background.

The arrival time of Harding was a secret. So was the place he will be staying. Some pro-Greek Cypriots on Cyprus have threatened to kill Harding for his handling of the rebellion there against British rule. British officials feared an ambush in Britain because strict security precautions in Cyprus have protected him.

Heart Attack Kills Hiroshima Victim After Face Lift

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the "Hiroshima Maidens" died of a heart attack Thursday night during humanitarian surgery to remove the disfiguring scars left by the world's first atom bomb raid.

Tomako Nakabayashi, 26, died six hours after the plastic surgery at Mt. Sinai Hospital. It was her third operation to remove the scars of World War II.

She was one of 25 Japanese girls who came to the United States a year ago to hope again for the beauty they lost during the historic leveling of Hiroshima on Japan's inland sea.

Bodies Piling Up In San Francisco Embalmer Strike

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Owner embalmers worked in teams in the city's mortuaries today to handle normal mortality rates suddenly made heavy by a walkout of licensed embalmers.

Union disputes have all but sealed off the city's burial grounds and stripped the staffs of half the town's mortuaries.

More than 200 bodies are stored in some 40 funeral homes with an estimated daily inflow of an additional 20 bodies to add to the uncomfortable total.

At one struck mortuary, a bereaved family had to push its way yesterday through a picket line which circled the funeral party in protest of the use of non-union labor.

Backstrand Will Address GOP

Assemblyman Lee Backstrand will be the featured speaker at the regular meeting of the Palm Springs Republican Assembly at 8 p.m., Monday, at the American Legion Auxiliary hall.

Backstrand is a candidate for re-election. He will be introduced by George Berkey, Fourth District supervisor.

This will be the last meeting of the group before the June 5 primary, and President Arnold Rumwell urged that all members attend.

Cathedral City School Land Swap Succeeds

Robert Sherrill, manager of the Cathedral City Water and Development Company, last night purchased the triangular piece of land at the Cathedral City School site with a bid of $1,500.

Sherrill was the only bidder although many inquiries about the property were made to school district administrators.

The board of education also authorized the purchase from Sherrill of an identical piece of property northeast of the school, also for $1,500. Both transactions will go into escrow at the same time. The roundabout transaction was necessary because by law a school board cannot trade property.

Acquisition of the new piece of property will enable the board to expand the facilities at the school.
